WE SEEK TRAVEL

We Seek Travel is a backpacking, adventure travel blog aimed at providing free and helpful travel guides to independent adventurers aiming to seek more from their travels and adventures.

From tropical waterfalls to Himalayan trekking, We Seek Travel arms readers with the potential to expand their own personal journeys and to find value in the travel experience.

WHY CHOOSE ME?

I create content that inspires the niche of independent adventurers and backpackers who respond to a core focus on pure travel experiences.

How?

Every adventure guide and travel blog is written by me and features rich, detailed content and professional photography. My readers are in the market for raw, independent travel and follow my recommended routes, activities and experiences for many months and years to come.

CONTENT CREATION

I am an experienced content creator and photographer. My specialities are:

- Landscape and adventure photography
- Drone photography
- Underwater and dive photography (certified divemaster)
- Travel writing - travel guides and blogs

I create highly-engaging content that can promote a destination, product or service,

WHAT CAN I OFFER?

High-quality, and permanent content on my blog or social media, designed to drive my growing audience to your destination or engage with your product or service.

I also work personally with brands, hotels, and tour companies to create customized visual and written content such as:

- High resolution photo packages (drone, underwater and landscape)
- Custom video
- Professional written content and targeted links
